This is interesting. I called Steve Kimm. He basically got no direction from Eric. I laid out the types of information that we were hoping to get from his analysis. He was VERY appreciative of my input and felt like he really wasn't give clear direction by the city.

Whatever. Steve sounds like he has a lot of personal knowledge for the site, and I think he will be very useful in helping us understand what we know, and don't know about the Panelyte.

Sorry I dropped the ball.
